

Congratulations on the Festival! No doubt, everyone continues to view again and again! The virtual offering really worked out well.

Dr. Gilbert-Roberts

I just finished watching the Jamaica Poetry Festival. I found it to be a very fun, interactive, insightful and iconic show that allowed Jamaican icons as well as other icons from all walks of the globe to express themselves through poetry in a way that not only got their views across, but it also helps to establish poetry as a legitimate art craft that persons should invest their time in. Poetry is a relatively underrated literary art form when compared to its companion art forms, singing and acting. It is because of people like you that it and poets of all walks of life are getting the attention they deserve. Also, your persistence in going ahead with the JPF in spite of the pandemic is very admirable and it is something that persons should subscribe to and aspire to achieve. Seeing the different icons being iconic, helps to uplift persons like me and for that I thank you.

It was a pleasure to participate. Nuff congratulations on hosting the event in these difficult times! Stay strong!

Professor Carolyn Cooper

I was lucky enough to see your global show on Sunday night, and to see Olive Senior featured as this year's Lifetime Achievement Awardee. The show was very good, well managed!
Cheers,
